What is 'Personal Data'?

Personal data is information that we hold about you and which identifies you. This could include includes information such as your name, date of birth, nationality, address, contact details, occupation, and your photograph.

How and why do we collect and use your personal data?

The School uses your personal data in order for you to act as a Governor of the School and for compliance purposes.

Examples of how we may collect your data are:

- Your CV and biography
- Governor Application Form
- Declaration of Interests Form
- Verbal or written information from you or others
- Information you record on GovernorHub
- Taking your photograph on appointment in order to create your Governor lanyard.

What personal data does the School process?

Below are some of examples of the ways in which we use your data:

- We use your details to contact you by email, post or telephone;
- We collect employment information, as well as other information that may lead to a conflict of interest in your role as Governor, such as any appointments in other schools, a business that may trade with the school, or a member of family working at the school
- We monitor the timescale of your role as a Governor;
- We record your skills that you provided in the Governor Application Form in order for us to assess the skills set across the Governing Body;
- If someone makes a complaint we may need to use your information to ensure that we deal with this properly;
- We may, on occasion, use photographs or videos of you for the School's website, social media sites, local news, prospectus and other marketing or teaching materials. We may continue to use these photographs and videos after you leave the Governing Body.

Who has access to your data?

The majority of your personal data collected will remain with the School and only used by the people who need to know the information. However there are some instances where the School will need to share your personal data with other parties, for example:

- We share your name and role on the Governing body publicly on the School's website;
- The Government. For example, we share your information with the Department of Education as part of our legal obligation (some, but not all of the information shared is shown on the GIAS web page).
- Our DBS check provider when performing the Disclosure and Barring Service check;
- The School's Bank for money laundering due diligence purposes;
- If you have worked full time in another country in the last five years for more than three months, the School will ask that you contact the relevant place of work for a reference;
- Where needed, legal experts or other professionals/consultants/advisors to ensure we fulfil our obligations.
- Inspectors;
- GovernorHub which form the core of our Governor contact and information system.

We will only share your information with other people or organisations when we have a good reason to do so and where the School is assured that your data will be kept securely. In exceptional circumstances, we may need to share it more widely than we would normally.

Sharing data outside the UK

We may send your information to countries which do not have the same level of protection for personal information as there is in the EU. For example, we may communicate with you by email when you are overseas.

The European Commission has produced a list of countries which have adequate data protection rules and therefore do not need further safeguards in place. The list is available here https://ec.europa.eu/info/law/law-topic/data-protection/data-transfers-outside-eu/adequacy-protection-personal-data-non-eu-countries_en#dataprotectionincountriesoutsidetheeu.

If the country that we send your information to is not on the list or is not a country within the European Economic Area (which means countries in the EU, Liechtenstein, Norway and Iceland), then it might not have the same level of protection for personal information as there is in the UK. If the School is aware of any data that it intends on sending to countries without adequate data protection, we will inform you.

Our legal grounds for using your personal data

The information below contains the legal grounds in which we rely on to handle your personal data.

- For the School's legitimate interests, such as ensuring the effective running of the School, looking after the School community, advertising and improving the School.
- For a legal obligation, such as disclosing your data to third parties such as the Government, Police and Local Authority where we are legally obliged to do so.
- For your or someone else's vital interests, for example in an extreme emergency.
- For the public interest, for example safeguarding and promoting the welfare of children, facilitating the effective operation of the School and for providing education services.

There are special categories of your personal data that need to be treated particularly sensitively and the School therefore has to further justify why it may need to use such data. These data types include racial or ethnic origin, political opinions, religious or philosophical beliefs, health information, details of criminal or suspected criminal convictions. Our justifications for processing these types of data are:

- You have given explicit consent;
- To carry out our obligations in the field of employment or social security and social protection law;
- To protect yours or someone else's vital interests;
- You have already made the data manifestly public;
- For the purposes of a legal claim;
- There is a substantial public interest;
- For the provision of health or social care or treatment.

Consent

On some occasions the School may ask for your consent to use your personal data. You may take back this consent at any time. However, any use the School has made of your information before you withdraw your consent will still be valid.

Please note that there are some circumstances where the School will not be able to accept your request for consent withdrawal as we may be relying on another justification for processing your data.

Your Rights

Individuals have a number of rights under Data Protection law which you can exercise. These include:

- If the data we have on you is incorrect, you can ask us to correct it;
- You can ask us to delete the information we hold on you in certain circumstances, such as when we no longer need the information;
- You can ask what information we hold about you and be provided with a copy. We will also give you extra information, such as why we use the information, where it came from and what types of people/organisations it has been sent to;
- You can ask the School to restrict the use of your information where it is inaccurate, unlawful, no longer needed or where your right to object is apparent. This will be balanced with the School's legitimate interests for using the data;
- You can ask the School to send you or another organisation certain types of information about you in a machine-readable format.

How long do we keep your personal data for?

The School will keep your data for as long as you are on the Governing Body. In some circumstances, such as for safeguarding, we will keep the information indefinitely.

For more information on retention of your personal data please refer to our retention schedule.

Contact

If you have any questions or concerns about the information in this Notice or your rights, you can contact the School using the details above. Alternatively, if you are still not satisfied with the way the School has handled your personal data, you can contact the Information Commissioner's Office on 0303 123 1113.
